E. Carter Sibley, newly-appointed director of community and governmental relations in the Office of External Relations, has made a request to the University community for cooperation in helping him fulfill one of his job responsibilities. Effective dissemination of all relevant information concerning possible external funding sources to appropriate offices on campus is one of the duties of his new position, according to Sibley. Therefore, he will appreciate information from anyone on campus who locates a potential funding source and feels that the University could benefit from it.

Sibley added that anyone who has received information from his office and wishes additional follow-up may reach him in Room 225, Madison Hall; or by phoning 895-6612.

Mae B. Satterfield, coordinator, Financial Aids and Placement, Division of Student Affairs; contributed her time and talents to two external professional groups during the month of November.

The first week of the month, she served as instructor of a workshop for inexperienced financial aid officers sponsored by the Alabama Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators in conjunction with their annual meeting held in Mobile.

Later in November, Ms. Satterfield spent four days as chairman of a panel asked by the Office of Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare; to conduct a Regional Four, nine-state review for the department. The panel's responsibility was to evaluate and make funding recommendations for the fiscal year 1977 on applications from institutions wishing to participate in student financial aid programs. This is the second year that Ms. Satterfield has been a member of this panel.
