INFORMAL DIALOGUE:

— Frances Roberts Recital Hall
11 a.m. - 12:30 p.m.
The University of Alabama in Huntsville

PUBLIC LECTURE:

J.F. Drake Learning Resources Center
Multipurpose Room • 7:00 p.m.
The University of Alabama in Huntsville

Join The University of Alabama in Huntsville and Alabama A&M University in welcoming Pulitzer Prize winning author Diane McWhorter, author of "Carry Me Home: Birmingham, Alabama—The Climactic Battle of the Civil Rights Revolution," as the guest speaker for the Third Annual Civil Rights Symposium. She was the recipient of the 2002 Pulitzer Prize for general nonfiction.

"Carry Me Home," a 600-page masterpiece, took 19 years to write and was McWhorter's first book. She graduated from Wellesley College with a bachelor's degree in Comparative Literature. McWhorter will address the Civil Rights Movement in Alabama Symposium during two talks on March 10 at UAH and Alabama A&M University.

Some of her accomplishments include:

- A nationally-renowned journalist who contributes regularly to The New York Times and the opinion and editorial pages of USA TODAY
- She has written on race, politics and myriad topics for a variety of publications, including Harper's, The New Republic, The Nation, The Wall Street Journal, Newsday, The Washington Post and People Magazine.
- McWhorter was a finalist for the Helen Bernstein Award for Excellence in Journalism, Robert Kennedy Book Award and Lillian Smith Award.
- McWhorter is the recipient of the J. Anthony Lukas Prize Project, Washington Monthly's Best 2001 Political Books and the Southern Book Critics Circle Award for Nonfiction.

The page features a decorative border with a repeating floral motif in red, blue, and gold. The border is composed of a top and bottom horizontal band, and two vertical bands on the left and right sides. The floral motifs are stylized, multi-petaled flowers with a central blue dot. The background of the page is a light cream color with a subtle diagonal line pattern.

I hope my achievements in life shall be these;
That I will have fought for what was right and fair,
That I will have risked for that which mattered, that
I will have given help to those who were in need...
That I will have left the earth a better place for what I've done who I've been.

"Jahni the Imaginati's" View of Art:
 "Art is my gypsy woman. Our imagery is an ever-present struggle to unite the finite and the infinite. I am dedicated fully to the intuitive mission of inspiring the imagination as something very much real, possessing the ability to alter circumstances. Art is a vehicle, a wake up call, a morning bell that beckons the true self to come out and play in this thing called life. True art is the manifestation of the soul kicking against the machine. By some point reach for and experience life, not just an existence. We hold this truth to be self evident, that all are created sacred, endowed with an inalienable right to greatness."
