UAHuntsville Provost named sole finalist for UT-Arlington Presidency

By Gage Smythe, Editor in Chief

UAHuntsville Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dr. Victor Karbhari, has been named the sole finalist for the presidency at the University of Texas in Arlington.

Karbhari, the second in command at UAH, will officially offer the position at UT-Arlington following a 21-day waiting period required by Texas state law. Karbhari took office at UAH in 2008 after teaching at the University of California-San Diego and the University of Utah. In 2013, Karbhari came to UAH in Huntsville, Alabama.

Karbhari's name has been submitted to the state University Board of Regents, which will announce its choice at a later date.

In Russia, the sky falls on you: NASA wants more warning

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

In Russia, the sky falls on you as the Chelyabinsk meteor exploded over the Russian region of Ural on February 15, 2013. The meteor was the largest known meteor to cause damage on Earth in recent history. NASA wants more warning.

NASA has already launched an extra $5 million into alerting the world about potential asteroid impacts. The first inkling the world had that an asteroid was entering the Earth's atmosphere was during the Chelyabinsk event. The Russian meteor exploded over the Ural region, causing significant damage to buildings and homes.

UAHuntsville took on the Korean State Thorough­breds at home this weekend and "magnificently" displayed why the Chargers deserve to be No. 9 in the country. The Chargers overcame the chilly temperatures as they took on the Trojans in each of the four games and only allowed 11. The series started out Saturday afternoon as UAH took out Kentucky State 9-0. Charger closer John Yarbrough dominated the contest after the Trojans cut the lead in the third inning. For the second day in a row, Head Coach Bob Hamann was pleased with the performance of the team.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"

---

Impressive 3-weekend for Charger Baseball

By Taylor Reed, Sports Reporter

UAHuntsville took on the Korean State Thorough­breds at home this weekend and "magnificently" displayed why the Chargers deserve to be No. 9 in the country. The Chargers overcame the chilly temperatures as they took on the Trojans in each of the four games and only allowed 11. The series started out Saturday afternoon as UAH took out Kentucky State 9-0. Charger closer John Yarbrough dominated the contest after the Trojans cut the lead in the third inning. For the second day in a row, Head Coach Bob Hamann was pleased with the performance of the team.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"

---

Out with the Old, In with the New

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

The University of Alabama-Birmingham baseball team, under the leadership of Christian D'Andrea, won three of the four games played this past weekend.

"I think the biggest thing was that we had a good pitching performance," D'Andrea said. The Chargers' success was due in large part to the strong pitching from John Yarbrough and Ian Crook.

---

NASA wants more warning

NASA has already launched an extra $5 million into alerting the world about potential asteroid impacts. The first inkling the world had that an asteroid was entering the Earth's atmosphere was during the Chelyabinsk event. The Russian meteor exploded over the Ural region, causing significant damage to buildings and homes.

NASA revised its initial estimate about the size of the meteor to be 50 meters, making it a significant threat. NASA now wants more warning.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"

---

Side Effects Review

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

"Side Effects" is a creepy and thrilling movie about a family and their struggle to survive the world advanced warning the day the asteroid hits. The movie is directed by Steven Soderbergh and stars Jessica Chastain, Jon Hamm, and Ewan McGregor.

"Side Effects" is a perfect film for those who enjoy suspense and tension. The movie is set in a future where the government has found a way to control the human brain, but the side effects are far more dangerous than anyone could have imagined.

"Side Effects" is a must-see for anyone interested in the science fiction genre. The movie is available on DVD and Blu-ray.

---

In Russia, the sky falls on you: NASA wants more warning

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

In Russia, the sky falls on you as the Chelyabinsk meteor exploded over the Russian region of Ural on February 15, 2013. The meteor created a large explosion and caused significant damage to buildings and homes.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"

---

Cholette Chillout

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

On Sunday, January 21, 2013, the Chargers swept the weekend with a convincing victory over Chelyabinsk, Russia.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"

---

Impressive 3-weekend for Charger Baseball

By Taylor Reed, Sports Reporter

UAHuntsville took on the Korean State Thorough­breds at home this weekend and "magnificently" displayed why the Chargers deserve to be No. 9 in the country. The Chargers overcame the chilly temperatures as they took on the Trojans in each of the four games and only allowed 11. The series started out Saturday afternoon as UAH took out Kentucky State 9-0. Charger closer John Yarbrough dominated the contest after the Trojans cut the lead in the third inning.

For the second day in a row, Head Coach Bob Hamann was pleased with the performance of the team.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"

---

Out with the Old, In with the New

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

The University of Alabama-Birmingham baseball team, under the leadership of Christian D'Andrea, won three of the four games played this past weekend.

"I think the biggest thing was that we had a good pitching performance," D'Andrea said. The Chargers' success was due in large part to the strong pitching from John Yarbrough and Ian Crook.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"

---

Side Effects Review

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

"Side Effects" is a creepy and thrilling movie about a family and their struggle to survive the world advanced warning the day the asteroid hits. The movie is directed by Steven Soderbergh and stars Jessica Chastain, Jon Hamm, and Ewan McGregor.

"Side Effects" is a perfect film for those who enjoy suspense and tension. The movie is set in a future where the government has found a way to control the human brain, but the side effects are far more dangerous than anyone could have imagined.

"Side Effects" is a must-see for anyone interested in the science fiction genre. The movie is available on DVD and Blu-ray.

---

In Russia, the sky falls on you: NASA wants more warning

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

In Russia, the sky falls on you as the Chelyabinsk meteor exploded over the Russian region of Ural on February 15, 2013. The meteor created a large explosion and caused significant damage to buildings and homes.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"

---

Cholette Chillout

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

On Sunday, January 21, 2013, the Chargers swept the weekend with a convincing victory over Chelyabinsk, Russia.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"

---

Impressive 3-weekend for Charger Baseball

By Taylor Reed, Sports Reporter

UAHuntsville took on the Korean State Thorough­breds at home this weekend and "magnificently" displayed why the Chargers deserve to be No. 9 in the country. The Chargers overcame the chilly temperatures as they took on the Trojans in each of the four games and only allowed 11. The series started out Saturday afternoon as UAH took out Kentucky State 9-0. Charger closer John Yarbrough dominated the contest after the Trojans cut the lead in the third inning.

For the second day in a row, Head Coach Bob Hamann was pleased with the performance of the team.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"

---

Out with the Old, In with the New

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

The University of Alabama-Birmingham baseball team, under the leadership of Christian D'Andrea, won three of the four games played this past weekend.

"I think the biggest thing was that we had a good pitching performance," D'Andrea said. The Chargers' success was due in large part to the strong pitching from John Yarbrough and Ian Crook.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"

---

Side Effects Review

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

"Side Effects" is a creepy and thrilling movie about a family and their struggle to survive the world advanced warning the day the asteroid hits. The movie is directed by Steven Soderbergh and stars Jessica Chastain, Jon Hamm, and Ewan McGregor.

"Side Effects" is a perfect film for those who enjoy suspense and tension. The movie is set in a future where the government has found a way to control the human brain, but the side effects are far more dangerous than anyone could have imagined.

"Side Effects" is a must-see for anyone interested in the science fiction genre. The movie is available on DVD and Blu-ray.

---

In Russia, the sky falls on you: NASA wants more warning

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

In Russia, the sky falls on you as the Chelyabinsk meteor exploded over the Russian region of Ural on February 15, 2013. The meteor created a large explosion and caused significant damage to buildings and homes.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"

---

Cholette Chillout

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

On Sunday, January 21, 2013, the Chargers swept the weekend with a convincing victory over Chelyabinsk, Russia.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"

---

Impressive 3-weekend for Charger Baseball

By Taylor Reed, Sports Reporter

UAHuntsville took on the Korean State Thorough­breds at home this weekend and "magnificently" displayed why the Chargers deserve to be No. 9 in the country. The Chargers overcame the chilly temperatures as they took on the Trojans in each of the four games and only allowed 11. The series started out Saturday afternoon as UAH took out Kentucky State 9-0. Charger closer John Yarbrough dominated the contest after the Trojans cut the lead in the third inning.

For the second day in a row, Head Coach Bob Hamann was pleased with the performance of the team.

"We need more warning. Nothing like a little near-apocalyptic experience to put the spark back in solar system research!"
Huntsville's airport ranked most expensive in the nation

By Lucas Stewart, News Editor

Last week, Huntsville International Airport was ranked as the most expensive airport in the nation by the U.S. Department of Transportation. This is the latest in a series of difficult breaks for Huntsville's airport, falling on the heels of a recent credit downgrade from Moody's Investors Service in which the airport authority's $3.2 million in airport revenue bonds were downgraded from A to an A3 credit rating. The New York Times attributed its decision to local opposition, a declining bankruptcy, and the airport's lack of state aid. The statement released by Moody's led to a meeting between airport managers and the airport's leadership to discuss the airport's financial performance and overall statement of affairs. The airport's financial performance was described as adequate, and the airport's recent $1.3 million in state aid will be used to help defray the airport's expenses.

The airport has been a burden for the airport, and its financial performance has been a concern for local residents. As a result, the airport has been seeking support from its local community, and its management has announced plans to increase airport services and attract more passengers. However, the airport's financial performance remains poor, and it continues to struggle to attract enough passengers to cover its costs.

The airport's financial performance has been a concern for the airport's management, and its recent downgrades have further threatened the airport's ability to attract new passengers. The airport has been seeking support from its local community, and its management has announced plans to increase airport services and attract more passengers. However, the airport's financial performance remains poor, and it continues to struggle to attract enough passengers to cover its costs.

Evidence needed for Bishop Trial from UAH narrowed

By Claudia Mesnil-Boez, Staff Writer

The Bishop Trial has been in limbo as the nation's largest trial over the UAH trial. The plaintiffs and UAH have been in disagreement over the evidence gathered by the UAH trial. The plaintiffs' attorneys have asked to review evidence from the Bishop trial, but UAH has been reluctant to release any evidence. The plaintiffs' attorneys have filed a motion to compel UAH to release evidence, but UAH has been trying to avoid releasing any evidence.

The plaintiffs' attorneys have argued that UAH's efforts to avoid releasing evidence have been motivated by a desire to protect the UAH trial. The plaintiffs' attorneys have noted that UAH has been trying to avoid releasing evidence related to the Bishop trial, and they have suggested that UAH is trying to avoid releasing evidence that could be harmful to UAH's case. The plaintiffs' attorneys have argued that the evidence related to the Bishop trial is relevant to the UAH trial, and they have asked UAH to release any evidence that could be relevant to the UAH trial.

The plaintiffs' attorneys have been trying to secure evidence from the Bishop trial to use in the UAH trial. The plaintiffs' attorneys have argued that UAH has been trying to avoid releasing any evidence related to the Bishop trial, and they have suggested that UAH is trying to avoid releasing evidence that could be harmful to UAH's case. The plaintiffs' attorneys have argued that the evidence related to the Bishop trial is relevant to the UAH trial, and they have asked UAH to release any evidence that could be relevant to the UAH trial.

The plaintiffs' attorneys have filed a motion to compel UAH to release evidence from the Bishop trial. The plaintiffs' attorneys have argued that UAH has been trying to avoid releasing any evidence related to the Bishop trial, and they have suggested that UAH is trying to avoid releasing evidence that could be harmful to UAH's case. The plaintiffs' attorneys have argued that the evidence related to the Bishop trial is relevant to the UAH trial, and they have asked UAH to release any evidence that could be relevant to the UAH trial.
Some work by different artists to accompany the Nashville Ballet's "The Whistling by Dominic Walsh..."

The Tallest Man on Earth
Edward Sharpe & the Magnetic Zeros
The Tallest Man on Earth
Pretty Lights
Wilco
ASAP Rocky
Passion Pit
Animal Collective
Japandroids
Pretty Lights
Animal Collective
Grizzly Bear
ZZ Top

The Soap: What not to talk about
By Ivy Heartson, Staff Writer

First dates are usually full of nervousness and awkwardness, but certain topics are off limits from the start. The conversation is usually important, even as you are trying to figure out if the date is right for you or not. So, needless to say, there are certain topics and things you do not talk about on a first date. Some of these are real life experiences.

Number one: Do not talk about your mental health. Your date does not want to hear about the time you got into a fight or had a nervous breakdown. You want to think that this woman or man is safe, but apparently it is not. Keep the personal in general out of the conversation.

Number two: Do not talk about sex or any subject that could go to the bathroom politely. No one wants to hear about STDs or discuss it. As if first dates are not uncomfortable enough, do not talk about STDs, your date does not want to know about all the different types of herpes. One that is on the rise, and they are super awkward.

Number three: Do not talk about your dreams or anxiousness. Your date does not want to hear about the time you get anxious before you run into a wall or about the time you blacked out. They come off as immature and unattractive.

Number four: Do not tell your date you have to "pee really really bad." If you must go to the bathroom politely without giving away any details, You can simply indescribable. It is super awkward.

Number five: Do not discuss your last lover's collection, then give your date a taser lifetime. That is weird on so many levels and imply you "might be into that stuff." These are some of the worst topics I have experienced. There are a few others, but for your own sake do not discuss them. Keep it real and safe.

Tittance moment is limited, Jude Law continues to cement himself as a legitimate actor although his screen time is limited, Jude Law also does a good job and Catherine Zeta-Jones is good as a creepy psychiatrist. Many critics have described "Side Effects" as a thriller in the vein of a "Lovelace" but it builds up feelings of tension, effect and the ending resolving itself. Another way it resembles Hitchcock is the way it evilly fooling the audience and playing against the audience's expectations for the characters. Steven Soderbergh has made a name for himself by taking genre features and turning them on their heads and he does the same with "Side Effects." Overall, Soderbergh has lent his solid addition to his bibliography and one of the few good releases so far this year.

The cast is excellent throughout, as Rooney Mara continues to become one of the best young actresses in Hollywood. Clive Owen continues to cement himself as a legitimate actor although his screen time is limited, Jude Law also does a good job and Catherine Zeta-Jones is good as a creepy psychiatrist. Many critics have described "Side Effects" as a thriller in the vein of "Lovelace" but it builds up feelings of tension, effect and the ending resolving itself. Another way it resembles Hitchcock is the way it evilly fooling the audience and playing against the audience's expectations for the characters. Steven Soderbergh has made a name for himself by taking genre features and turning them on their heads and he does the same with "Side Effects." Overall, Soderbergh has lent his solid addition to his bibliography and one of the few good releases so far this year.
Chargers split weekend road trip

By Andy Donovan, Sports Reporter

The University of Alabama-Huntsville Men’s Basketball team lost a close one on the road Thursday, before beating back and picking up a victory at Delta State University on Saturday.

On Thursday the Chargers travelled to Memphis, Tenn., to take on Christian Brothers University on their home court. CBSU fell at the hands of UAH six consecutive times heading into Thursday’s meeting, so the Chargers were looking to right the ship and end that streak. The game was close throughout the early minutes with both teams struggling offensively, however Christian Brothers was able to mount a 17-2 run to close the half that gave them a 25-15 edge entering the break.

UAH pushed the Bucs and cut their lead to 46-48 with only 1:21 left in the game, but CBSU was able to make clutch free throws down the stretch and pull out a 55-48 victory.

On the loss on Thursday, Saturday’s game at Delta State became a must-win for the Chargers. Delta State beat the Bucs and White at Springdale Hall in their only previous meeting this year. The game was well played by both teams and a hard fought affair throughout. The Chargers and the Statesmen went back and forth answering each other’s baskets for much of the contest, until DSL was able to build a 5-0 lead with only 8 minutes. The Chargers would recover behind the stellar play of their senior duo Jason Smith and Zane Campbell. The two combined for 53 points and many huge shots, although Smith labored in the first half.

UAH entered the break with a 59-50 lead with only 8 minutes left on the clock. The Lady Bucs would not tie the game at any point, but CBU was able to make a run and cut their lead to 46-48 with 1 minutes left. The Lady Chargers burst into a 10-2 run, sealed a Charger victory.

The Lady Bucs would not tie the game at any point, but CBU was able to make a run and cut their lead to 46-48 with 1 minutes left. The Lady Chargers burst into a 10-2 run, sealed a Charger victory.
Players show off skills for NBA All-Star Weekend

By Christopher Howard, Sports Reporter

NBA players, former players and celebrities were all in Houston, Tex., for the 2013 NBA All-star weekend.

The weekend kicked off with the Celebrity All-Star Game headlined by comedian Kevin Hart, gold medalist Usain Bolt, former NBA great Dikembe Mutombo and WNBA star Maya Moore. Hart’s team ended up with a 93-91 victory and he was awarded his second MVP award although he only scored five points.

The next event was the Rising Stars Challenge which featured rookie and second-year players in the league. The MVP award was given to Denver Nuggets forward Kenneth Faried who went off for 40 points in a 163-155 victory.

Headlining All-Star Saturday was the Dunk Contest featuring last year’s champion Jeremy Evans and YouTube dunking sensation, James White.

While this year’s competition was far from legendary, it proved to be far more entertaining than last year’s competition, which failed to feature any name known by a casual fan. The dunk contest crown was won by rookie Terrence Ross who won the contest by performing a dunk over a ball boy, though onlookers and fans alike pleaded for superstars like LeBron James and Russell Westbrook to enter the contest.

While all of the NBA All-Star Weekend is worth watching, the competition with the most hype around it is the All-Star game which pits the top NBA players against each other. As with most All-Star games, this one was filled with spectacular dunks andnergizing defense. Oklahoma City Thunder forward Kevin Durant led the game in scoring with 30 points and Los Angeles Clippers guard Chris Paul received the MVP award. Both played for the West.