Student Housing Loan Announced

An additional loan for the first student housing on campus was announced this month by U.S. Representative Ronnie Flippo, and Senators Donald Stewart and Howell Heflin.

The new loan of $2.7 million was made through the Campus Housing Loan Program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. It is repayable over forty years at three percent interest and will provide housing for about 280 students.

The previous loan of $2.4 million, repayable over thirty years at three percent interest, was announced in October of 1978. It will provide housing for 240 single and married students. The bidding process on the 1978 loan is expected to begin next month.

The loans will be used to build twelve three-story units consisting of one and four-bedroom apartments. The units will be located near the corner of Holmes Avenue and East Loop Road. Solar heating will be used in the laundry facility shared by all the units to serve both as an energy savings and a demonstration for others of the feasibility of solar heating.

"This is one of the most significant events to take place in the history of UAH since it was created as an autonomous institution in 1969," said UAH President John C. Wright. "There is no event that could have a greater beneficial effect on the overall health and vitality of this institution."

New Appointments

Bulletin Board received word just before deadline that the associate dean for management programs had been named. Dr. Jerald R. Smith, currently associate professor of management and coordinator of the master's in business administration program in the School of Business at the University of Louisville, will be assuming the post effective May 1. He'll be on campus several times before then to get to know the community and UAH. An in-depth article about him is planned for a later issue of Bulletin Board.

"We are please to announce the selection of Dr. Smith following a national search for an associate dean," said Dr. Elmer Anderson, Vice President for Academic Affairs. "We are especially happy with his background that represents both the practical world of business as well as the academic world. This combination of experience, coupled with research and teaching, will provide the expertise needed to develop the Division of Management Programs into a respected resource for the Tennessee Valley." The Division of Management Programs was formed at UAH this year to train managers for industry, business and government at all levels of responsibility.

Jim Gibson, formerly headmaster of the Fort Dale Academy in Greenville, AL, has become the new director of financial aids at UAH. Previous to his appointment at Fort Dale Academy, he served as director of financial aids at Livingston University.

An old face in a new place is Karen McLeod, whose appointment as director of auxiliary services became effective October 1.

The position she previously held as assistant to the dean of students has been abolished. Karen may still be found in Morton Hall.

UAH welcomes Bernard Levine as a researcher and John Allen as an information officer, both of whom have joined the JEEC staff.

Trick or Treat Time

The UAH Alumni Association is planning a Halloween party Saturday, October 27. There will be hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar where you can order Dracula's Bloody Mary and other beverages. Come in costume at 8 p.m. to the Knights of Columbus Hall on Leeman Ferry Road. The goblins will get you if you don't. So will the Association—you'll be assessed $1 if you show up without a costume.

Still Want To Go To Greece?

The Alumni Association will sell you a trip to Greece at a bargain price. About thirty alumni; faculty and friends of UAH have bought them so far. A chartered flight will leave Birmingham November 18 and return November 28. Contact Don Blaise in the Alumni Association Office for details at 5-6612.

Check Your Raffle Number

It's not too late to buy a stack of raffle tickets and thereby donate to the UAH Alumni Association's scholarship fund. Alumni Association Director Don Blaise reports that donations are going very well. The drawing of the contributor's ticket with the lucky number will be Thursday, November 15. The winning ticket holder will receive two passes to the Alabama-Auburn football game, overnight lodging at a Birmingham motel before the game, lunch at the Relay House with Dr. and Mrs. Wright, and a bus ride to and from Legion Field. It will make you feel good to donate to the scholarship fund...but don't lose your tickets. If you do, buy some more in the Alumni Office in the Continuing Education Center or from active alums.

ASEC Advisory Board Announced

Lieutenant Governor George McMillan and ten leaders from banking, utilities, homebuilding and other areas involving various aspects of solar applications, have been named to the Alabama Solar Energy Center's Advisory Committee. Organized as a review board, the committee met for the first time September 27 at JEEC with Senator Bill Smith acting in McMillan's place as chairman. Subsequent meetings will be held annually in Montgomery.

Opening Night

Renowned song writer and conductor John Green will raise his baton at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, October 20, to guest conduct the Birmingham Symphony Orchestra in the opening Grand Event of the UAH Arts Series. All Grand Events will be held in the Concert Hall at the Von Braun Civic Center. Season tickets, which represent a discount over individual ticket sales, carry an additional discount for faculty and staff. Brochures are still available from the Music Department at 5-6436. Tickets are on sale in the music office, Book Nook, Trayler Music Company and Country Plantation Store.

Howard Hanger and All That Jazz

The second of three scheduled presentations on the Enrichment Series of the UAH Arts Series will be the Howard Hanger Jazz Fantasy Saturday, November 3, at 8:15 p.m. in the UAH Recital Hall. Since its origin in 1966 as a trio, the Howard Hanger group has grown to six innovative performers and now includes piano, bass, percussion, violin, trumpet, and dance (both modern and classical). Enrichment Series tickets are sold singly at the same locations that carry the Grand Events tickets, and will also be available at the door.

Voices Across the Border

The Huntsville Village Singers will give a Bon Voyage performance Saturday, November 10, at 8:15 p.m. in the UAH Recital Hall. The program, under the direction of Dr. D. Royce Boyer, is in anticipation of the Singers' tour of Guatemala November 15-29. A climax of the tour will be a performance in Guatemala City before the International Convention of The Partners of the Americas, sponsors of the tour.

A Case For Liberal Education

The UAH Library is featuring a trophy case of antique textbooks and children's books which Library Director John Warren has whimsically titled "A Case for Liberal Education."

Katie Hammer, administrative assistant in the School of Graduate Studies, genealogist and collector extraordinaire, bundled up a crateful of books and took them to the library for display. The books belong to Katie and Dr. Frances Roberts, professor of history.

Katie's favorite from her own collection is an 1857 geography textbook with hand-colored maps, one of which outlines "Indian Territory" in what became the southern states. Among the treasures garnered from Dr. Roberts are calculus and geometry workbooks that belonged to one of her ancestors.
EMT For Firemen

A three-month EMT course is being given for forty members of Madison County volunteer fire departments by the Division of Continuing Education. Funded by TVA through North Alabama Emergency Medical Services (EMS) of Decatur, the course is taught by Cathy Green and Marie Killips in Continuing Education; Dave Gardner, EMS coordinator for Huntsville Hospital; and Ed Cain, a paramedic with the Huntsville Police Department. Classes are being held in the CE Center, with additional training in Huntsville Hospital.

Cooperative Program

Remember those forty Cooperative Education spaces that were open last month? They're not open anymore. The Co-op program under George Turmey has expanded rapidly, and has yet managed to keep pace with the needs of both industry and students. Although those slots have been filled, Turmey is constantly finding new positions for interested students. To fill out an application, drop by his office in Morton Hall.

Nurses Convention To Be Held In Huntsville

Approximately 1500 persons are expected to attend the sixty-sixth annual convention of the Alabama State Nurses' Association October 24-25-26 at the VBCC. The convention, the theme of which is "Tomorrow Depends on Today's Decisions," will be dedicated to former UAH Nursing School Dean, Dr. Kathryn Crossland.

Enrollment Shows Sharp Increase

The official enrollment figures have been released and UAH has 11.3% more students this fall compared with a year ago. A total of 4702 students are on campus this fall compared with 4204 students last fall.

This Is Your Last Chance

The 1979-80 UAH Special Events Calendar is now on sale to the Huntsville community and copies are expected to go rapidly. Don't miss out on the publication that gives at a glance all the information about what is coming for the year at UAH, plus many cultural events in the Huntsville area.

The cost of $2 plus tax covers only the paper and printing, there is no profit involved. Offices can order calendars by requisition through the Bookstore where copies are available to the general public. Copies are also on sale at the General Information Office in Morton Hall.

Staff To Visit Echols Hill

Mark the afternoon of Saturday, December 8, on your calendar to be sure not to miss the staff Christmas party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John C. Wright. A letter with more details will be coming soon from the Wrights.

The home on Echols Hill was built in 1814 and is the oldest in the city's historic Twickenham District. The mansion, first owned and occupied by LeRoy Pope and subsequently by Dr. Charles Patton and his descendants, has been restored in recent months and is now the official residence of the UAH president and his family.

Dr. Wright Addresses Kiwanis and Rotary

UAH President John C. Wright addressed the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs of Huntsville last month, saying that more state support is needed if UAH is to continue its healthy growth through the 1980s.

"There is good news and bad news in this year's budget," he said. "The good news is that our budget is up $3.4 million over last year. The bad news is that state appropriations have not increased; meaning, of course, that the additional revenue is all from nonstate sources."
Dr. Wright told the two groups, and visitors from the Madison County Legislative Delegation who were in the audience, that the university needed to retain and build its faculty. To do that, he said state funding must be brought back into balance for the coming years.

Spragins Hall
Off Limits

Spragins Hall will be closed to regular parking and activities both days Wednesday and Thursday, October 24 and 25. The building and parking lot will be used those dates for a Town and Gown Luncheon that will be bringing community leaders to campus to learn more about UAH. The special luncheon is being sponsored by UAH and the University of Alabama Huntsville Foundation.

The meeting will give us a chance to tell community leaders about the growth of UAH over the past ten years and to discuss plans for the 1980s as the university grows into a truly comprehensive regional institution,” said Dr. Joe Sparks, Director of Development and University Relations.

About Bulletin Board...

As you have probably noticed, nice things take longer to create. That’s the way with Bulletin Board, too. The new design has caused the deadline to submit material to be moved to the first of the month for publication the fifteenth. Sorry, but material received after the first of the month will be held until a later edition.

As stated in the August issue, the distribution system for Bulletin Board has been changed in response to requests from the spring survey. No distribution system is without its problems, so please call the News and Publications Office at 5-6040 if you are not getting a copy of Bulletin Board. The newsletter can be found on stands around campus and at the School of Primary Medical Care downtown.

Hockey Tickets
Go On Sale

Season tickets for UAH hockey are on sale at the VBCC Box Office and from members of the Huntsville Amateur Hockey Association at $12 for seating in the reserved box sections of the Civic Center for all home games. The Chargers’ opening home game will be Saturday, November 17, at 7:30 p.m., followed on Sunday, November 18, at 2:00 p.m. against the University of Tennessee. Individual tickets are $3 for adults and $1.50 for children age 13 and older. Children under age 12 are admitted to home games free, as are UAH students. Tickets can also be ordered through the mail by sending a check with a self-addressed, stamped envelope to UAH Hockey, VBCC, 700 Monroe St., Huntsville, AL 35801.

At the news conference to announce the new hockey team, UAH President John C. Wright said: “We’re fortunate to have an organization of the stature of the UAH Foundation willing to help introduce this new club sport. We’re indebted to the Foundation for funding the hockey team’s first year, and I have confidence that the hockey Chargers will be just as successful as the Charger basketball, crew, soccer and rugby teams that the Foundation was also instrumental in beginning.” The team is also supported by the VBCC that is donating practice time on the ice, and the Huntsville Athletic Club that is donating the use of its training room to the team.

Job Placement
Places People

Ever since the UAH administration began expanding the Placement Office through additional staffing and funding, things have been on the move—beginning with the Placement Office, which is now located in the Continuing Education Center just north of Madison Hall.

Don Blaize, Director of Alumni Affairs and Job Placement, emphasizes the need for seniors, graduate students, and all students with ninety or more semester hours to register for interviews with prospective employers for positions following graduation. A partial list of industry recruiters who will be on campus in the coming months is printed below.

The Job Placement Office also invites any student, freshman to Ph.D., interested in off-campus, part-time jobs, to come by and register. Blaize says that part-time jobs are available, even plentiful now, and there will be even more openings for holiday and summer work; but, students need to register now to be matched up with the right job at the right time. On campus, student assistant jobs are still under the aegis of Financial Aids.

Lecture Planned
Dr. Theodore R. Sherrod, professor of pharmacology at the University of Illinois, will be presenting a public lecture on "Pharmacology of Cardiac Drugs" at 1 p.m. October 18 in the Clinical Science Center auditorium.

Dr. Sherrod is a native Alabamian who attended school in Lawrence County, received his undergraduate training at Tuskegee Institute, and completed work on his M.D. and Ph.D. degrees at the University of Illinois. He has been on the faculty at the University of Illinois for more than twenty years and is presently serving as acting dean of the new medical school at Morehouse University in Atlanta.

Patient Care Policy
For UAH Students, Faculty and Staff:

Any student, faculty or staff member who needs a family physician may become a patient at the UAH Family Practice Center by phoning the Ambulatory Care Center at 536-5511, extension 209, and completing the intake forms.

Families of faculty and staff may also become patients. Families of UAH students may apply through regular patient application procedures.

Any student, faculty or staff member at UAH may receive emergency medical care at the Ambulatory Care Center from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday without prior registration at the Family Practice Center. Appointments should be made for emergency care by phoning 536-5511, extension 209.

All registered Family Practice Center patients can obtain emergency medical care between 5 p.m. and 8 a.m. on weekdays and all day on weekends by phoning the physician on call through the answering service—536-5511. Registered patients with emergencies are asked to call this number before going to the Huntsville Hospital Emergency Room, which is the only place where emergencies are seen outside regular Ambulatory Care Center office hours.

The Ambulatory Care Center, one of two UAH School of Primary Medical Care buildings in the Huntsville Medical District, is at 201 Governors Drive. The main entrance is on Longwood Avenue and patient parking is on the west side of the building only. Vehicles with UAH parking decals must park in the employee lot.

UAH students, faculty and staff who are planning to become patients of the UAH Family Practice Center are urged to register before they actually need medical care. All students registering as patients are required to have valid UAH identification cards. All patient care services provided by the UAH Ambulatory Care Center are on a fee-for-service basis.

Dynamic Duo Performs:

Music faculty members Marx Pales (left) and Frank Contreras practice for their first performance of the new school year. The duo performed October 4 for the Decatur Music Club and presented a faculty recital at UAH October 11. Pales, maestro of the Huntsville Symphony, reports that he will be conducting the first concert of the season October 27 in the VBCC with the "King of Swing" Benny Goodman. A few season tickets are still available through the Symphony Office at 539-4818.
