Academic Heraldry

Scholars began wearing caps and gowns during Medieval times. Since the halls of learning were unheated then, this custom may have been started more for warmth than for any other purpose. For whatever reason it was initiated, however, this traditional apparel has been worn by scholars throughout history.

In the United States a uniform code for academic costume was established in 1894 by a special commission of representatives from colleges and universities, thus standardizing academic regalia for American scholars.

Scholarly rank and academic disciplines are denoted through the symbolism of color and through the cut of the costume. A bachelor’s gown is black and untrimmed and has long, pointed sleeves. The color of the tassel on the mortarboard designates the academic discipline. For persons holding degrees in the Humanities, Arts, or Letters, the tassels are white; for Commerce, Accounting, and Business, the tassels are drab; for Economics, copper; Education, light blue; Engineering, orange; Music, pink; Nursing, apricot; and Science, golden yellow. The bachelor’s hood, if worn, is three feet long.

The gown for a person holding a master’s degree is black and untrimmed and has sleeves in the shape of an arc. The hood is three and one-half feet long.

A scholar who holds a doctorate wears a black gown faced with velvet and with three velvet panels on bell-shaped sleeves. The hood is four feet long. The color used in the border of the hood indicates the field of study. Doctors of Philosophy, for example, have hoods edged in dark blue. Other field colors which may be seen today in the processional are brown for Fine Arts, citron for Social Work, crimson for Journalism, green for Medicine, lemon yellow for Library Science, purple for Law, and scarlet for Theology. An Aiguillette worn over a doctor’s gown identifies a commencement marshal. The mace carried by the Grand Marshal symbolizes the university’s authority to confer degrees.

Colors of the institution which granted the degree are carried on the silk lining of the hoods, which usually has one or more chevrons. Blue and white are the colors of The University of Alabama in Huntsville.

Master of Arts

5  Sue Ellen Arimitsu (Developmental Learning) ................ Huntsville
5  Patricia Gayle Armstrong (Developmental Learning) ........ Brownsboro
5  Ruth Rich Boody (Developmental Learning) .................. Huntsville
5  Theresa Jane Cruise (Mathematics) ........................ Huntsville
5  Michael Lee Edwards (Mathematics) ........................ Huntsville
5  William Jackson Furbush (Mathematics) .................... Huntsville
5  William Price Gilchrist (Developmental Learning) ......... Athens
5  Jean F. Henderson (Mathematics) ............................ Killen
5  Carolyn Claybrook Holt (Mathematics) ..................... Huntsville
5  Regina Nichols Johnson (English) ........................... Madison

Thesis: The Sense of Community in The Fiction of Elizabeth Spencer

Sandra H. Keniston (Developmental Learning) ................ Huntsville

Thesis: Newborn Apgar Scores as compared to Bayley Mental and Motor Scores at Age Two

5  Thomas F. LeBlanc (Mathematics) ........................ Huntsville
5  Grace V. Mauney (Developmental Learning) ................. Huntsville
5  Garey Keith McCune (Developmental Learning) ............ Athens
5  Jean Orr (English) ............................................ Huntsville
Donald E. Owen (Developmental Learning) .......................... Huntsville Thesis:  The Effects of Time in Training on the Acquisition of Assertive Behaviors

5 Patricia McCranie Rogers (Developmental Learning)  ............. Huntsville
5 Avis Yvonne Mason Satterfield (English) ............................. Huntsville
5 John Terrell Sharpton (Mathematics) ................................. Huntsville
5 Jane Scruggs Watkins (Mathematics) ................................. Athens

Master of Science

Danny Milton Hardin (Physics) ........................................... Huntsville
  Thesis:  Resistivity and Hall Constant Investigations of Ga - Bi Alloys

5 Nicholas C. Kattos (Physics) ........................................ Huntsville
5 P. Judson Kelly (Chemistry) ......................................... Loma Linda, California
  Thesis:  Studies with Organic Bases

John Robert Moffatt (Chemistry) ...................................... Huntsville
  Thesis:  Solvolysis of Benzyl Chlorides

Charles E. Patty, Jr. (Physics) ..................................... Huntsville
  Thesis:  Optical Evaluation and Testing of Chemical Laser Window Materials

5 George Sebastian Viguet, Jr. (Physics) ............................ Huntsville
5 Don Williams Ware, Jr. (Chemistry) ............................... Decatur
  Thesis:  Halogenation of Allylic Amides

Larry Curtis Warren (Chemistry) .................................... Huntsville
  Thesis:  A Thermal Decomposition Study of Azomethane by Molecular Beam Velocity Analysis Spectrometry

Master of Science in Engineering

David William Allen (Electrical Engineering) ........................ Huntsville
  Thesis:  A Hybrid Simulation of World Models

Richard N. Armstrong (Industrial and Systems Engineering) ...... Enterprise
  Thesis:  Pilot Estimates of Helicopter Velocities and Altitudes

5 Robin Lee Browne Buckelew (Mechanical Engineering) ........... Huntsville
5 Otto Peter Gerny (Industrial and Systems Engineering) ........ Huntsville
5 Peter Ho-Chee Chan (Electrical Engineering) ........................ Huntsville
5 Chandrashekar Dahagam (Electrical Engineering) ................ Huntsville
5 Jahn Michel Coppey (Industrial and Systems Engineering) ..... Huntsville
5 Robert Franklin Huffine (Industrial and Systems Engineering) Huntsville
5 Leo Bernard Kump (Electrical Engineering) ........................ Huntsville
  Thesis:  Binary Phase Codes in Radar Applications
Jing-Ping Kuo (Mechanical Engineering) ......................... Huntsville Thesis: Study of Acoustic-Gravity Wave Propagation During the time Period of Hurricanes and Thunderstorms

Richard Alfred Lane (Electrical Engineering) .................... Huntsville
Thesis: A Digital Detector with Selectable Passband

Rajinder Singh Mehta (Mechanical Engineering) ............... Huntsville
Thesis: Acoustic Fatigue and Dynamic Response of Panels

Joseph Lesly Mercier (Industrial and Systems Engineering) ..... Huntsville
Analysis

Larry Richard Murdock (Mechanical Engineering) ............... Huntsville
To Phan (Mechanical Engineering) ................................ Huntsville
Thesis: Observation of Ionospheric Disturbances during Time
Periods of Tornadic Storms

Arvind M. Patel (Electrical Engineering) ........................ Huntsville
Stanley Lane Pruett (Industrial and Systems Engineering) .... Arab Madhusudan C. Rao (Electrical Engineering) ...................... Huntsville
John L. Stensby, Jr. (Electrical Engineering) ....................... Huntsville
Thesis: On The Spectral Purity of Phase Locked Voltage Controlled Oscillators

David William Tarrant (Electrical Engineering) .................. Huntsville
Thesis: Rational Approximant of Exp (-Jω) with Realizations

Herbert A. Theumer (Industrial and Systems Engineering) ..... Decatur
Thesis: Effects of Continuous and Intermittent Noise on Human Heart Beat Rate and Performance

Master of Science Engineering

Billy Paul Buckles .................................................. Huntsville
Thesis: Computational Complexity of a Multi-Criteria Risk Analysis Algorithm

John Campbell Kelly ................................................ Huntsville
Thesis: Logistics Simulation Using GASP IV

Doctor of Philosophy

Charles Dowdle Bennett (Industrial and Systems Engineering) ... Huntsville
Dissertation: An Algorithm for Solution of Multiple Criteria Decision Problem Under Uncertainty (Advisor: Dr. Robert Shannon)
Sang Moo Han (Mechanical Engineering) .......................... Huntsville

James Andrew Holzer (Physics) ................................. Huntsville
Dissertation: Scattering of Electromagnetic Waves From a Rough Dielectric Surface (Advisor: Dr. C. C. Sung)

Duane David Marshall (Industrial and Systems Engineering) .... Huntsville
