DESERTS ON THE MARCH, 4th ed., by Paul B. Sears, Norman: University of Oklahoma Press, 1980, 258 pp., $12.50.

I, for one, am glad this university press has again issued this classic work on the conservation of natural resources. Revised and updated, it is even more timely today. First issued in 1935, it chronicles the growing inability of man to properly utilize his natural resources. A very grim outlook on our future is presented; frightening but so necessary for us to understand.
