Contributors

Robin L. Denson earned a Ph.D. in Archaeology and Fluvial Geomorphology from the University of St. Andrews, Scotland in 1995. She co-founded the Gulf Archaeology Research Institute in Florida, where she worked in historic, prehistoric and underwater archaeology until relocating to Huntsville in 2000. Currently, she works at UAH on the National Space Science and Technology Center's Education and Public Outreach team and serves as Executive Director of the Alabama Math, Science and Technology Education Coalition.

Diane Ellis has been a contributor to the Quarterly since 1992. She currently edits the publication with Lynn Jones and Patricia Ryan.

Sarah Huff Fisk is a past president of the Huntsville-Madison County Historical Society and the author of several books on local history.

Frank J. Nola, Jr., is a practicing architect and a principal of the firm SKT Architects, PC. He received a Bachelor of Architecture degree from the University of Miami and a Master of Architecture degree from the University of Virginia. He maintains a diverse architectural practice involving institutional, residential and historic preservation projects. He is past president of the North Alabama Chapter of the American Institute of Architects and is currently a member of the Board of Directors of the Alabama Architectural Foundation.

Acknowledgments

The editors of the Quarterly wish to thank Cynthia Doubet, Special Events Coordinator, Office of University Advancement at the University of Alabama in Huntsville, for providing guided access to the Lowe House property; Dr. J. Derald Morgan, Executive Director, UAH Foundation, and Vice President, Office of University Advancement at the University of Alabama in Huntsville, for supporting the editors' plans for the Quarterly; Gerri Sturges, Office Manager at SKT Architects, PC, for helping with information retrieval; John Michael Vlach, for suggesting scholarly sources on antebellum outbuildings; and Bruce Hiles, of Designwise, for continuing to provide excellence in the design and production of the Quarterly

Correction

The article titled "Recycling Redstone: Preservation on a Massive Scale," which appeared in the last Quarterly (Volume 29, Numbers 3-4, Fall/Winter 2003), incorrectly identified Don Kennedy as Jeff Kennedy's grandfather and Joe Kennedy as Jeff's father. The article should have said that Harry Kennedy is Jeff Kennedy's grandfather, and Don Kennedy is Jeff's father.

Editors for this issue of the Quarterly were Diane Ellis, Lynn Jones and Patricia Ryan.
